

WHY LANDLORDS & PROPERTY MANAGERS LEVERAGE VIKANE FUMIGATION

What you Need to Know

Once virtually eradicated in the United States, bed bugs are now becoming America's pest nightmare. Because bed bugs are the ultimate hitchhikers, no place is immune to them — homes, apartments, retail stores, even five-star hotels.

Professional pest control firms and their customers have relied on Vikane® gas fumigant for 50 years to solve the toughest pest problems— drywood termites, wood-destroying beetles, bed bugs and more.

A single treatment of Vikane, when used according to label directions, can eliminate all of the pests. Vikane completely dissipates to leave no surface residue, odor or film behind.

Three facts about Vikane explain its special ability to get rid of bed bugs.

1. Vikane is effective against all life stages of bed bugs, including the eggs.
2. There is no resistance of bed bugs to Vikane.
3. Vikane® gas fumigant penetrates into cracks and crevices, into furniture and any other hiding places, to eliminate the pests.

Benefits

Fumigation can save you time, money, maintain tenants and reduce liability and the risk of potential legal recourse from tenants who become infested.

By motivating new tenants to fumigate their belongings prior to moving in, it eliminates the chance of subsequent exposure to the property. It also eliminates the liability of a tenant creating an infestation that is the responsibility of the property manager to address.

For current tenants experiencing bed bug infestation, fumigation with Vikane will eliminate the infestation of their contents in a single treatment to rid the problem quickly before it affects adjacent units.

Fumigation fulfills the landlord's obligation to treat the infestation and is guaranteed to eliminate in a single treatment.

Many people that experience a bed bug infestation choose to move to a new location. Fumigation of their belongings would enable them to stay in their current residence so you can retain tenants and keep units occupied.

Units can be offered "guaranteed bed bug free" to attract clientele at a premium rate.

Bed bug pre and post treatment, education, policies and procedures can be provided to promote enhanced compliance to existing and future regulations.
